

Let's play in the snow!

Winter Equine Photography Workshop

Saturday, February 11, 2012

10:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Have you always wanted to take better photos of your horse? Did you get a new camera for Christmas, and are dying to try it out? Are you tired of riding in circles around the arena? Then join us for this fun workshop.

We'll look at the basics of equine photography, including cameras & other equipment, posed photos & the basics of shooting action photos. After lunch we'll head outside to practice with the horses at Travis Hall - stallions racing through the snow, some of the youngsters having fun. We'll try black & white photographs, and creative shooting techniques. Then we'll come in to warm up, and try some artistic editing techniques, and print a few of your photos on fine art paper.

This class is perfect for owners, breeders, or simply those who love horses. Teenagers are very welcome! Have a horse lover on your Christmas list?

A gift certificate would be perfect for them.

The workshop fee is $125 + HST, and includes lunch. Pre-registration is required as class size is limited.
